Gender Discrimination and Harassment in the Legal Profession: The Role of the Court in Addressing and Enforcing Civility and Non-Discrimination

The legal community is not immune from issues of gender harassment and civility as Chief Justice Roberts recently observed. Please join us for a lively discussion with a panel of experienced Federal Magistrate Judges and trial lawyers. This panel will explore some of the experiences that female lawyers have faced, and continue to face in the legal profession. It will also examine the role of the Court in enforcing civility when this behavior occurs outside the courtroom, discuss the pros and cons of seeking assistance from the Court, and review the rules and mechanisms available to the District Court to address these issues.
